"Looking Forward and Looking Back"

"2004 Looks Forward, 2004 Looks Back" is the theme of this year's yearbook. Looking forward and looking back is a regular occurrence when one prepares to graduate. Whether going off to college, starting a career, or without a specific plan for after high school, everyone has the memories of his or her high school years.

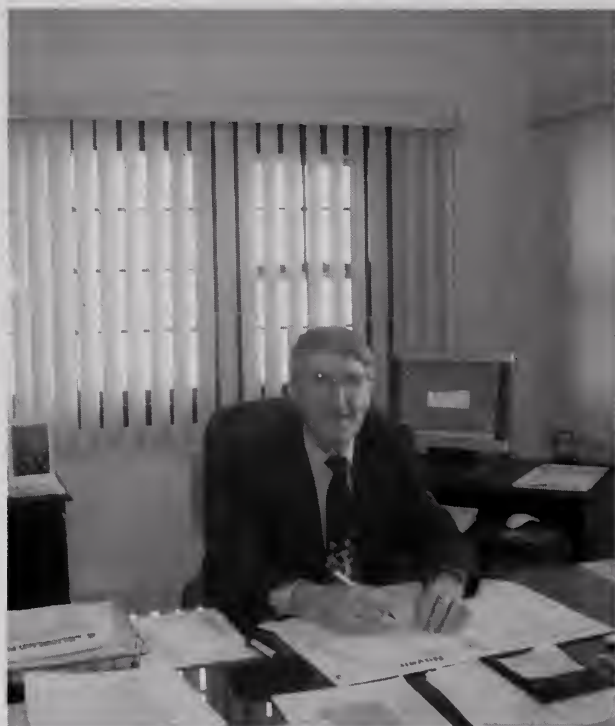

As this year's seniors are filling out their college applications, they look back at all the fun they had at Holbrook High School, as well as look forward to their next exciting stage of life.

While the teachers get settled back into the school routine, they watch Mrs. Fontecchio settle into her role this year as vice-principal. She has taken charge of the job and is ready for future years in this position.

This year is coming to an end and a new one is beginning, a new year of hopes, dreams, and ambitions. From the students, faculty, and staff at Holbrook Jr/Sr High School, good luck this year and in years to come.

Superintendent's Message

To the members of the Class of 2004,

On behalf of the Holbrook School Committee, I want to congratulate you on this very excellent accomplishment. I have had the pleasure of being a principal for sixteen years in Holbrook before becoming Superintendent. It is especially rewarding for me to see you grow, learn, and participate in school life. Your dedication and commitment to reach this goal is recognized by all.

I know that you will reflect fondly over the many experiences you had while students in Holbrook. Those memories will remain with you forever. It is the teaching and learning you received that will begin to prepare you now for your adult life. You have grown academically, emotionally, and socially; now you will be ready to further enhance your education, pursue your careers, and become participating citizens.

It is my wish that your future be filled with health, happiness, and success.

Be proud of yourself! You did great! Congratulations!

Sincerely,

Joseph F. Cirigliano, Superintendent of Schools

Principal's Message

To the Members of the Class of 2004

Your years at Holbrook Junior-Senior High School have been filled with a variety of experiences that have prepared you for success. Very shortly, you will leave your high school and begin to participate in another chapter of your life. I trust that you have learned from your experiences and are ready to meet the challenges your life will bring. Holbrook Junior-Senior High School will be here, ready to help you whenever possible. I encourage you to continue to do your best, so that you will always be a credit to your school, your parents, and your community.

I offer my sincere congratulations to each member of the class of 2004. I wish you well, whatever your endeavor, knowing that your efforts will lead to your success.

So Long, Farewell

"To teach is to touch lives forever."

-Anonymous

1. Leslie Prescott

Her favorite memories are musicals, proms, art fairs, graduations, and all those times that the students far exceeded her expectations. The events she'll miss most are the laughs in the teachers' room, working with dedicated artists and watching as a beginner develops as an artist. Mrs. Prescott plans to travel, draw, paint, work on her home and finish all those projects she has started over the years.

2. Micheal Herbert

Mr. Herbert's fondest memory at Holbrook High was conducting his High School Chorus and past alumni in the Hallelujah Chorus (Messiah) at our annual Holiday Concert. What he is going to miss the most is the development of a child's voice from first grade until their graduation. After he leaves he is looking forward to traveling with his wife, Tricia, and enjoying his grandchildren.

3. Hans Melder

Mr. Melder's favorite memory was when a frustrated student realized the hope of possibility then the joy of success. He also enjoyed seeing the uplifted head and wonderful smile that represents why he teaches. What he is going to miss most about Holbrook High is "the sounds of life" and the "smell of brain smoke" that comes from students experiencing learning and discovery at our school.

4. Jack Boyce

The moment he will miss most about teaching is being part of something that influences so many lives. The greatest satisfaction is when a student sees you many years after graduation and says "you will never guess what I am doing" and then says "thank you". Mr. Boyce's favorite memory was when there were eleven new teachers the first year he started teaching, and they would get together with some experienced veterans and give each other help and support. He's looking forward to spending more time with his wife and family and their two grandchildren.

CLASS OF 2004

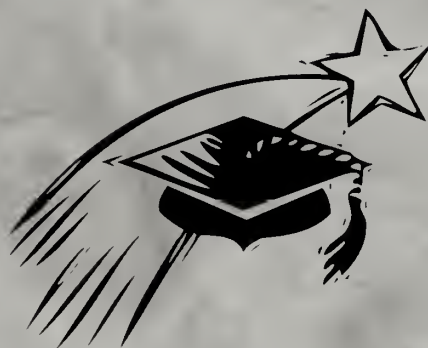

Class Officers

It seems like only yesterday that we stepped foot into our kindergarten class surrounded by the faces of those with whom we would spend the next twelve years of our lives. As our senior year winds down, we recall all we've been through together, the friendships we've made, and the memories we'll never forget. The homecoming banners, craft fairs, junior prom, basketball and football concession stands and our senior trip to Disney World will soon become faded memories as we look forward to graduation and life after high school. As we eat in the cafeteria for the last time and clean out lockers for the incoming freshman, we will make sure we keep all the lessons we have learned at Holbrook High close at hand. To the Class of 2004: we wish you success and happiness in all your future endeavors.

Thank You, Mrs. Kaplan

Mrs. Kaplan, you have been an amazing advisor and the Class of 2004 could not have asked for better. Everything you have done has been greatly appreciated and will never be forgotten.

Running to Hull to plan our prom, our crazy trips to BJ's, and our hectic concession stands will always bring a smile to our faces, whenever we look back at our time at Holbrook High. We will never forget the inside jokes, your smelly feet, the many nicknames you have given us and all the nutty stories: like the one when you had to climb through your window or when you turned your seventh grade classroom into boot camp over a broken ruler!

We could not have had such an amazing prom and equally successful senior trip without your help, hard work and dedication. Everything you have done will not go unacknowledged and it will never be forgotten.

I've learned in these last couple of years that there aren't straight paths in the road of life. There are always twists & turns that you have to blow by. I've had new experiences & new friends. I'd like to thank Linda, Rachel, & Christel for being such supporting friends; my bros Dave T., Iman, Jim, Craig P., and Jared for being buds; Craig L. for the parties; Craig F. for keeping me in line; & finally Dave F. for the pool in the weekends. Woot Woot!! Go 2004!!

1. Amanda Ferreira and Matthew Berg show off their stuff, as they receive most changed.

2. No surprise, class clowns Danielle Macauley and Joe Campbell are caught playing in the principal's office.

3. Dan Hurney, Sean Gavin, Angela Federico and Hollie LeDoux don't drift too far from one another as they receive the best friends award.

4. Craig Powers and Lianne O'Neil are a little timid about having their picture taken for their award as most shy.

5. Eddie Kernan and Danielle Lynch show off their pearly whites, proving they deserve best smile.

6. Sarah Digirolamo, Joe Campbell and Ann Messina have a twinkle in their eyes as they accept the award for nicest eyes.

7. Mike Hathaway and Christine Regal show off their award winning paintings as they receive most artistic.

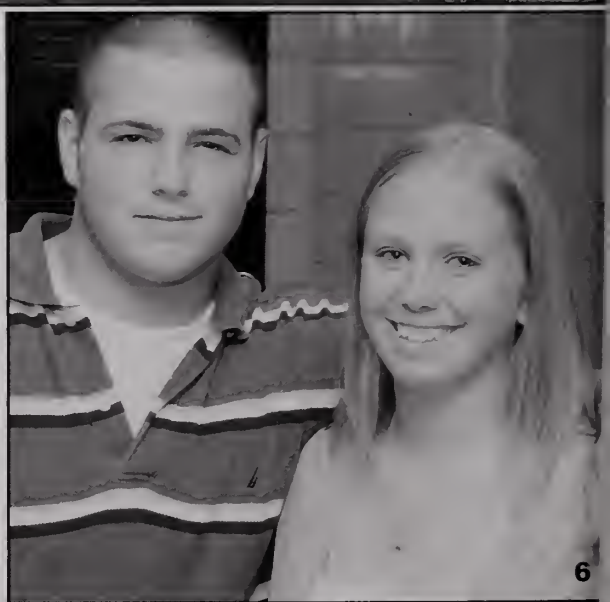

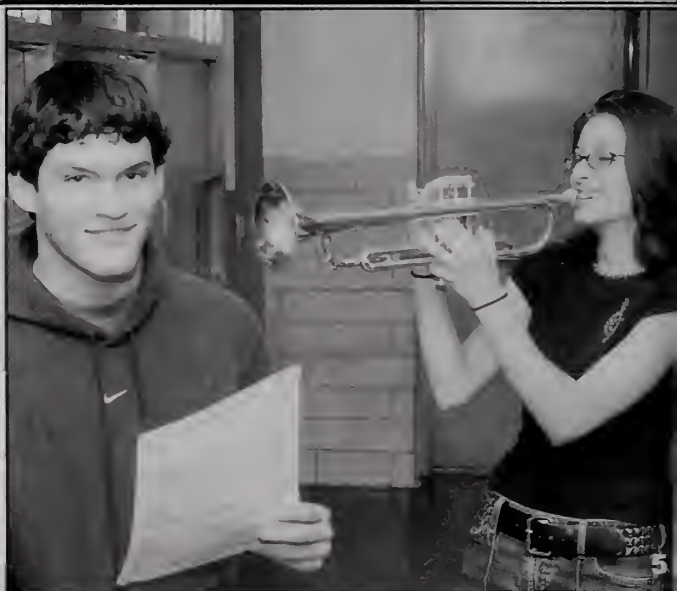

8. Kyle Bowers and Amanda Ferreira try to make an early break as this year's worst cases of seniorities.

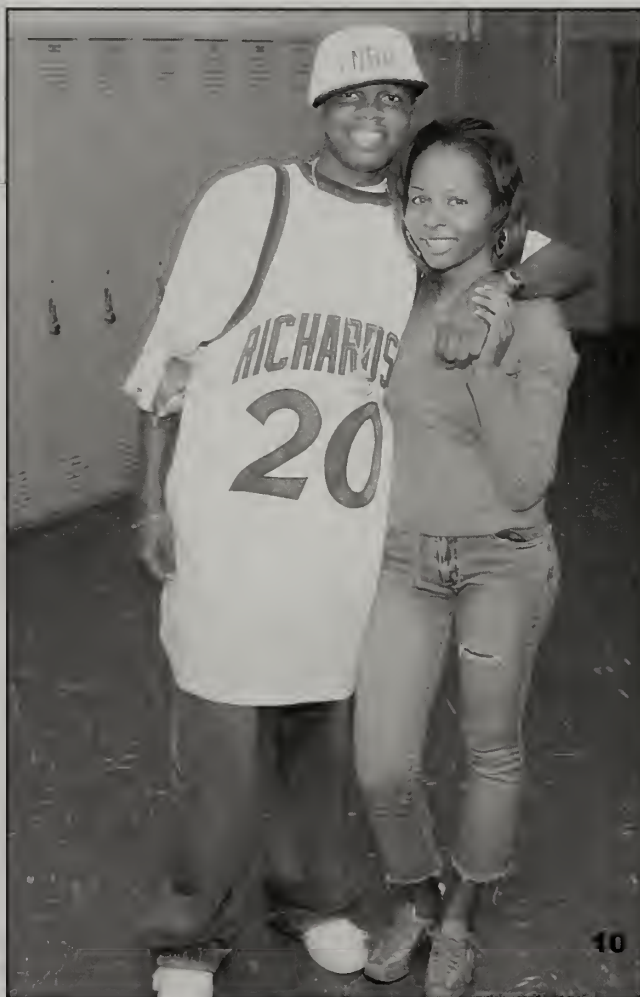

9. Richardson Luc gives Jackie Lemire a big hug and a lily as they share the award for class flirts.

10. Worst drivers Haley Comerford and Dan Hurney actually come to a complete stop for this photo to be taken.

11. Nicole Mastrogiacomo and Iman Rastegari show off their halos as class angels.

And the winners are...

1. Eddie Kernan and Hollie LeDoux declare a war of words as this year's most opinionated.

2. Sean Gavin and Haley Comerford still cannot figure out how they won this year's most absent-minded.

3. Most unpredictable Ann Messina and John Vandermaelen, surprise everyone as they pop out from a locker.

4. Chatterbox Patrice Comerford tries to put an end to Rich DeRusha's excessive talking habits.

5. Most musical Mike Hathaway and Andrea Davis rehearse possible ear ache.

6. Sarah Digirolamo and Chris Connolly stop to greet each other with their best personalities.

7. Most spirited John Vandermaelen and Anna Rothwell demonstrate their high flying school spirit.

8. Alyssa Fabrizio and Iman Rastegari check out The Wall Street Journal to chart their future successes.

9. Most Athletic Isiah Roberson, Jess MacNeil and Sean Gavin take a break from the field for a quick photo.

10. Most stylish Richardson Luc and Jamie Henderson ham it up in their latest fashions for the cameras.

1. Diseanna Carrol-Brown and Randy Regis, don't they just have the best laugh?

2. Class gossipers, Ashley Sumner and Brian Abbott spread the latest gossip while posing for their photo.

3. Surprise, surprise, Kady Shea and Justin Yao start their usual morning routine by signing in tardy in the office.

4. Lauren Rouse and Mike Monahan take a little nap as they pose for their most likely to be caught napping in class award.

5. Joe Campbell and Amy Breen help put a smile on each other's face as the classes most likely to make you smile.

6. Chris Connolly and Stephanie Belanger take a break from the excitement to pose for the picture as Class of 2004's life of the party.

As officers of the Class of 2005, we have been working very hard this past year. Striving to raise funds for major events like prom, while keeping senior year events in mind. We were all officers last year as well, so we have gotten to know each other by working with one another. We hope to make this year and the next year, the best ever.

As our sophomore year comes to an end, we look back to all our class events, fundraisers and memories and are eager to plan for the future. We were fortunate enough to be one of the few sophomore classes to beat the seniors in the Homecoming banner contest. We hope to have fun while planning our junior prom and other fundraisers with the support of our class advisors, Ms. Maloney and Mrs. Fontecchio. We hope that the rest of our high school years will continue to be a success!

We excitedly started off our first year in the high school venturing out of the junior high hallways. Creating our banner for homecoming was our first big class event. We didn't win, but our banner looked great and the time and effort spent "glue gunning" was well worth it! Our creations for the craft fair, especially our home made ornaments, were huge sellers.

We look forward to three more great years at the high school!

Homecoming

Homecoming 2003 began on the cold morning of October 18, 2003. The band, cheerleaders, classes and their homecoming floats lined up at the Holbrook police station for the parade to the high school. At the school, all the homecoming court in their convertibles and the class floats circled the field. Congratulations to the Class of 2006 for winning this year's banner contest.

The game began at 11:00 against Cape Cod Tech. It was a hard fought game for the Bulldogs but victory would not be theirs. The final score was 15-0. They strived to win and put on a great performance. The dance began at 7:00 pm and it was a great success with over a hundred students attending. Before the night was over, Mike Hathaway and Alyssa Fabrizio were crowned 2003 Homecoming King and Queen. The whole day was fantastic and eventful!

1. The football team psychs themselves up for the big game.

2. Kyle Bowers dives through the air in hopes of blocking the kick.

3. Eric McNeil makes a run for it while opponents try to stop him.

4. Jeff Gillenwater and Chris Connolly charge their opponent's.

5. Mike Hathaway and Alyssa Fabrizio pose proudly after being crowned Homecoming King and Queen.

6. The marching band and some loyal fans march before the big game.

7. Sarah Digirolamo and Danielle Lynch take a break from their dancing and strike a pose.

8. Shannon O'Hara and her date Marshal have a blast at Saturday night's Homecoming dance.

9. Andrea Davis dances up a storm.

Under the direction of George Sullivan the Holbrook High School students put on another successful winter performance. 'The Perfect Idiot' is about a not so popular student who decides to tutor the star jock and tricks the popular crowd into accepting him only to win the heart of Linda, a member of the popular crowd. Students who starred in this play include Rachel Gates, John Vandermaelen, Brian Kenerson, Tim Gammon, Andrea Davis, Iman Rastegari, Dan Gates, Rachel Gammon, Emily Jones, Amanda Ferreira and Akeem Lashley.

Clockwise from above: Jeannie, Linda and Carla try to persuade Dan into helping them. Jackie ponders a thought. Dr. Von Barf is convinced that Dan is crazy. Ms. Latherby is accidentally hypnotized as Dan tries to regain control of her. Mr. Bernard, the principal, tells Dan's parents that he is not ready for college.

Ms. Dixie Latherby (Andrea Davis) is hypnotized into thinking she is a giant rabbit.

Puff (Akeem Lashley) listens to his friends fighting about his decision to quit the football and track teams.

Louis the butler (Brian Kenerson) spies on Mr. and Mrs. Tennyson's conversation.

SEMI-FORMAL

Dancing on the Decks

This year's semi-formal went according to plan, unlike last year's which was postponed twice. It was held on March 19, 2004 at the Dalton Club in Holbrook. The theme for this year's dance was a "Dancing on the Decks". Decorations included pirate hats and flags.

Just like previous semi-formals, the student council did an excellent job of planning the dance. From decorating to taking jackets when the students arrived, everything was a success.

Both the students and the teachers who chaperoned appeared to have an amazing night. The students were dancing all night long and always had smiles on their faces. This semi-formal may be one the students never forget!

Christmas Concert

A Musical Success!

On the evening of December 17 the auditorium was full of people to watch the annual Christmas Concert. There was a variety of things to see including the senior high jazz ensemble, the junior high chorus, the senior high band, the senior high chorus, alumni and the dance ensemble. This was Mr. Herbert's 34th Christmas Concert but it was also his last as chorus director. He was presented with the book The Night Before Christmas because it was his favorite song to perform. During the performance Santa walked through the auditorium. The concert concluded with the senior high chorus and alumni performing Hallelujah. The success of the concert was apparent through the applause and reaction of the delighted audience.

Starting off the year, the Bulldogs were forced to endure some tough hits, before even stepping into a game. When summer practices started up, it looked as though low numbers might do in the team, but those who came worked hard and pushed on. Luckily, when school started up in September, a large group of kids came out to play and saved the team from having its schedule canceled.

The team started off their season on an uplifting note, by beating Trinity Catholic, 18 to 6, but unfortunately finished the season with a record of 2-9, after Old Colony was forced to forfeit. Captains Kyle Bowers, Chris Connolly, Mike Hathaway, Jay Kelly, and Tom Hafferty have brought the team together and taught them to play through the adversity every week. The team plays every down of the game as hard as they can, no matter who the opponent is. Hafferty, a junior, is looking forward to next year's season and hopes to field a team with as much heart as in years past.

Senior, Mike Hathaway, played Bulldog football for four years and this year joins the captains to lead the team.

Jay Kelly, senior captain, the ball down field for a gain.

Junior Tom Hafferty gets the chance this year to step forward and help lead the bulldogs down their successful path.

Chicks that Kick

This year the Lady Bulldogs started off strong. With the strong leadership and dedication of senior captains Sarah Digirolamo, Amy Breen, and Jessica MacNeil, the girls knew they were going to have a successful season.

With a young team, these girls knew they would have to put in extra effort if they wanted to make the tournament. Though they had a different and tougher schedule, the girls worked hard to make sure they would be ready for anything.

All three senior captains made major contributions to the team, from providing leadership skills on and off the field to creating lasting friendships. Both captains Sarah Digirolamo and Jessica MacNeil were named Mayflower League All Stars of 2003. They were all a great help in the success of the team and will be missed by their teammates.

With a final record of 7-7-1, the Lady Bulldogs qualified for the tournament. They played Bristol Plymouth in the preliminary round and successfully defeated them. In the first round of the tournament the Lady Bulldogs were scheduled to play Cardinal Spellman who was seated first in the tournament. The girls put up a good fight and played strong until the final whistle but were unfortunately defeated.

Though the three seniors are leaving, the girls will still have a skilled team for next years season. We can only look forward to next years season and see what the future holds for the Lady Bulldogs.

2003 Captains

Junior Jessica MacNeil is a defensive player. She is the treasurer of the National Honor Society and a captain of both the varsity basketball and softball teams.

Senior Sarah Digirolamo is a defensive player and treasurer of the senior class. She also participates in varsity basketball and is vice president of NHS.

Senior Amy Breen is an offensive player and president of the senior class. She also participates in varsity softball and is a member of National Honor Society.

Serving to Success

Sophomore Corina Lehens accurately serves the ball in play to get a volley started for the Bulldogs. Freshman Kristina Prusik bump-sets the ball to the powerful middle hitter, Jen Lowe, for a spike. Senior Jen Lowe focuses on bumping the ball to the setter to set a play up.

The key to the Bulldogs' season this year was teamwork. The team was coached by Vin Hayward and Jenna Caples who led the girls to a 7-7 season. Their record qualified them for the tournament for the first time in four years. The team got off to a good start with a win against Bristol Aggie and their success continued all year long. The team was able to improve in many areas other than winning games, mainly with the help of their coach. Coach Hayward has been the coach for the past three years and this has been their most successful season.

With the dedication and hard work from everyone on the team, they were able to compete with some of the top teams in and out of their division. This year the Bulldogs had a young team with only two seniors, Jen Lowe and Kady Shea. They were both captains of the team and were also awarded MIAA Mayflower League All-Stars for their exceptional performance all season long.

Coach Hayward gives a quick, motivating speech to get the team "up, up" during a time out.

Coach

Vinny Hayward

Coach Hayward has been the volleyball coach for the past three years. Through his positive attitude and support, the team was able to have fun while winning games.

"This has been my most successful season coaching and I hope to have many more to come."

Captains

Jen Lowe

Jen has greatly contributed to the success of the team this season through her excellent serving and spiking skills. As a senior,

Jen has led her team to victories with her outstanding offensive abilities and great leadership.

Kady Shea

Kady has been playing on the volleyball team since 9th grade. She has helped bring the team to success with her leadership and serving abilities.

Cheerleading

NO NEGATIVITY

The season started out pretty rough having problems finding a coach. Finally Ms. Pennisi came in and took charge. Even though she had not had experience in this sport, she did know how to make a team. She kept them on their toes and made them work hard. It took some time to get the girls in shape since their used to having practice during the summer. By the end of the season six girls remained on the squad. Through all the challenges these six girls showed true dedication. By the end of the season, a halftime show was put together, showing their efforts and determination. Without the amazing coaching and persistent devotion, the team would have never achieved such high goals. They are looking forward to a great basketball season.

Lets Go Dogs!

The competition team is hard at work on their routine. Looks like they have it down!

If you asked the girls what cheerleading is, each one would tell you the same thing. It's hard work, dedication, patience, and doing things when you really don't want to do them. It's about leadership, listening, and interacting with the other girls on your team. If one person makes a mistake, everyone has to pay the price. The coaches help us see that in more ways than one. The team has really shown improvement. With new coaches, Vicki Coury and Kaitlin Hartigan, they were able to make it to competition with a fantastic routine. This season was difficult at first for many reasons, but yet again the girls triumphed and came out on top. Senior co-captains, Anna Rothwell and Angela Federico, say this has been the best year for them. They had so much fun and worked so hard and left on a high note. Knowing they gave it their all. Good luck to those girls and to the rest of the squad for the future.

Bottom Right: Staying behind his opponent from Nauset, Kyle Bowers chops the wrestler's arm to break him down, eventually emerging as the winner of the match. Kyle went 2-1 at the quad meet.

Pinning Their Shoulders to the Mat

With a new coach, the wrestling team once again was forced to adjust to a new style of learning and a new practice routine. It seems to have worked, though. Although the team's record is not quite amazing, "It's the best record we've had in the six years I've wrestled," says senior co-captain Kyle Bowers.

In addition to this, the team is beginning to slowly grow. From nine wrestlers last year, the team has increased to fourteen, with a lot of young faces. James Merrick, Alex Fotopolous, and Billy Bain are all seventh-grade wrestlers looking forward to continuing with the sport in years to come.

The program still has a long way to go, but it finally looks like it is on the rise. Numbers are increasing from year to year, and young wrestlers are giving some hope for the team. This season has been a vast improvement, and it will be interesting to watch what the future has in store.

Avon Holbrook PANTHERS

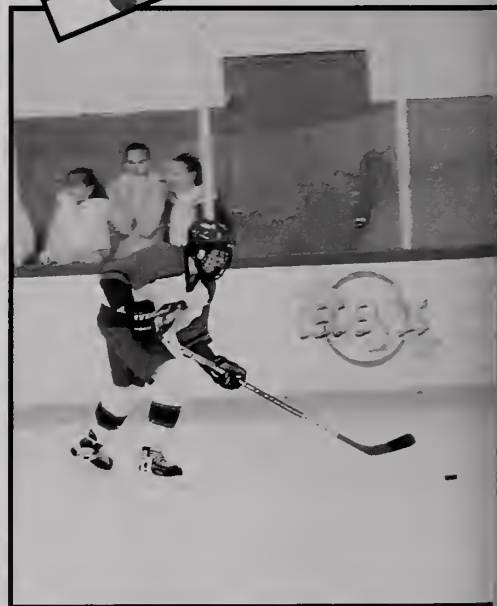

"This is my fourth year coaching and this is the greatest group of kids that I have had yet. Everyday I go to practice and these kids always find a way to make me laugh. I have grown very close to them. They are not only great athletes but they are great people as well. I look forward to continuing success to come." Brian Macauley- Asst. Coach

This year's Avon-Holbrook Panthers have been nothing but the best. With a 13-6-1 record and a bid to the tournament, they have come together as a team and made this season one to remember. Leading the team this year are tri-captains, Bob Stevens (Junior HHS), Eddie Kamel (Senior AHS), and Sean Meany (Senior AHS). They have done a tremendous job acting as role models for the younger kids on the team. One of their star players, eighth grader Mike Kuhn, has shown excellent skill all season. He couldn't have done it without the great leadership from these fantastic captains. The coaches, John Richardson, Brian Macauley and goalie coach, Everett Cutts, have really picked a winning team this year. They have made a difference and brought these kids onto a team that is based on hard work, dedication and trust. During every game these coaches are pushing and motivating the team to be the best they can be. They have had numerous victories with their fast, sufficient plays and their constant constructive criticism making these players who they are today. The Avon-Holbrook Panthers have shown great spirit this season. Good luck to the seniors and next year's team!

...*SENIOR NIGHT *...

On February 5th, 2003, Holbrook High School honored the seniors on the boys' basketball team during their last home game of the season. Seniors, Brian Abbott, Bahige Bitar, Joe Campbell, Chris Connolly, Bobby Faherty, Sean Gavin, Dan Hurney, Richardson Luc and Sammie Turner were recognized at the beginning of the game. Each player had his name announced, and proceeded to half-court where they met someone special with a rose and a hug. The boys reigned victorious as they competed against Middleboro, dealing out a 78 - 55 win.

Boys Varsity Basketball has made it further this season than in the past five. With ten seniors leading the way, the year ended with a record of 11-9, and a trip to the state tournament. With direction by first year Holbrook coach, Tim Owens, the players proved to be more dedicated, consistent and team-oriented. Captains Dan Hurney, Richardson Luc and Isiah Roberson showed leadership far above what was asked. Each game had its own excitement, keeping the fans on the edge of the bleachers. Rivals such as Avon, Southeastern and Blue Hills underestimated the quick moves and new strategies of the mighty Bulldogs and were rightfully put to shame. Close games were finished with an all around feeling of vibrancy and exhilaration. For the last few weeks, the boys had thoughts of only one thing: It was tournament time! The match against Upper Cape was neck and neck throughout the game. The score was 26-25 at the half with the Dogs planning a comeback. Unfortunately, the comeback wishes didn't come true, and they lost by only 6 points, putting an abrupt end to their amazing season. In the words of Captain Richardson Luc, "...it was a nice ride fellas."

Shooting Stars

The Bulldogs had another successful season by qualifying for the MIAA Tournament for the 4th straight season. The team also ended the year in 2nd place in the Mayflower League. They were led by senior captains, Jessie MacNeil and Jen Lowe. The Bulldogs were able to step it up after losing six seniors last season with the support and dedication of their coaches, Shannon Maloney and Kristi Bach.

Senior Jessie MacNeil took over as all-time leading scorer ending her career at Holbrook with over 700 points. Jessie was also named 2003-2004 Mayflower League All-Star along with senior Lauren Rouse, who led the team with 31 3-pointers this season. During the Norfolk Aggie Tournament against Mt. Alvernia sophomore Jenna Mumme was chosen as an All-Star.

In the preliminary round of the MIAA Tournament, Holbrook (#20 seed), the underdogs, beat Provincetown by a score of 60-50. After beating Provincetown, the Bulldogs then pulled off a major upset against 4th seed Westport winning by three points. Even with the team's momentum and intensity, they fell to Ursuline in the quarterfinals.

Where the magic happens

Our yearbook advisors, Ms. Moriarty and Mrs. Bach.

This year, the yearbook staff members worked hard and had a lot of fun to bring the 2004 yearbook to life. Some of the many things that needed to be done included writing information, identifying all of the people in the pictures, tallying up polls, and many other tasks. They brought new ideas for the pages of the yearbook. When they were done, Ms. Moriarty and Mrs. Bach, the advisors of the yearbook, assigned the staff members pages to work on. They saw that there was a variety of things that needed to be accomplished.

The staff members worked hard and made progress day after day. The pages had to be turned into Jostens, the yearbook publisher, and corrections were made.

Once completed, the staff members were all very proud to see how important a role they played in capturing a moment in time. The hard work paid off and the yearbook was a success!

Student Council

STARS
Stand Tall and Respect Self,
Students, Staff,
and School

This year's Student Council, and its new officers, Lauren Austin as President, Nicole Mastrogiocomo as Vice President, Monica Grochowski as Secretary, Lauren Harris as Treasurer, with Mrs. Fitzgerald as their director, started off the school year by decorating the school with their new theme, STARS (Stand tall and respect self, students, staff and school).

November was a busy month for the Student Council. They tried to make changes in the school by going to a teachers' meeting and speaking about harrasment. They also needed to plan for the Re-energizer that it held at the end of November. This is a chance for all the Student Councils state-wide to come together and share ideas, thoughts and have lots of fun. This year proved to be a success once again.

Lauren Austin, president of Student Council says "This year Student Council has definately become more involved with the individual needs of the students. As a Council, we have grown to use our unique qualities as a way to better the school. This has been one of my greatest experiences in my life.

Catherine Jones, a student council member who is in eighth grade, said, "I joined Student Council because I wanted to help the school and make a difference."

Paul Clougher, a ninth grade member of student council, says, "Student Council is a great learning experience and you get the chance to do a lot of new and fun things that students would not normally get to experience."

NHS

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is comprised of students who have achieved outstanding academic grades or have served as leaders in our school or community. Each member must spend at least 5 hours of community service each term to fulfill his or her duties as a member. So far this year the NHS has had a pancake breakfast, sold entertainment books and collected money each Friday for Jeans for Hunger. This year's NHS officers are: President: Jen Lowe; Vice President: Sarah Digirolamo; Treasurer: Jessy MacNeil; and Secretary: Alyssa Fabrizio. The officers and members have worked hard and dedicated many hours to help out our community.

Jen Lowe, President

"I liked the opportunity NHS gave to give back to the community"

Sarah Digirolamo, Vice President

"I enjoyed the community service aspect of NHS. It was great to be involved with people of Holbrook."

Jessy MacNeil, Treasurer

"I enjoyed working within our school and making a difference in our community."

Alyssa Fabrizio, Secretary

"I am thankful for the opportunity to work with a great group of people who try to help and make a difference."

Mrs. Nicastro, Advisor

"All of the members are wonderful role models for the rest of the student body. It has been a pleasure being involved with the NHS."

For the third time, Mr. Goniatis led a group of ambitious students to the Sheraton in Boston to be part of Harvard Model Congress 2004. HMC is a three day mock Congress in which students take on roles of members of the Senate and of the House of Representatives.

This year, fourteen Holbrook students participated in Harvard Model Congress. Mr. Gonzales made a surprise visit to the students at the Sheraton to help with their topics.

The students prepared for Harvard Model Congress by researching their Congressperson, writing pieces of legislature, and learning how Parliamentary Procedure works.

Clockwise from right: HMC members, Neil Rood, Andrew Flanagan, and Rich DeRusha, participate in full session. Kathleen Crockett, Natasha Kener, and Lana McCloy goof off and have fun at HMC. Other members Andrew Flanagan, Liam Cooper, Kathleen Crockett, and Natasha Kener strike a pose at full session. HMC Advisor, Mr. Goniatis, smiles in relief after another successful trip to HMC. Andrew Flanagan and Lana McCloy get together for a picture. Lauren Austin and Emily Jones boogie down at the HMC Congressional Ball.

Andrea Smith 12
"Colorguard has given me skills in leadership. All of the memories of different parades and halftime games over the years will remain with me forever."

Nicole Mastrogiacomo 12
"The best thing about being on colorguard with some of my best friends is all the memories we share, especially Band Day and halftime shows"

Tiara LaCosta 12
"Being on the colorguard squad made me appreciate my friendships more."

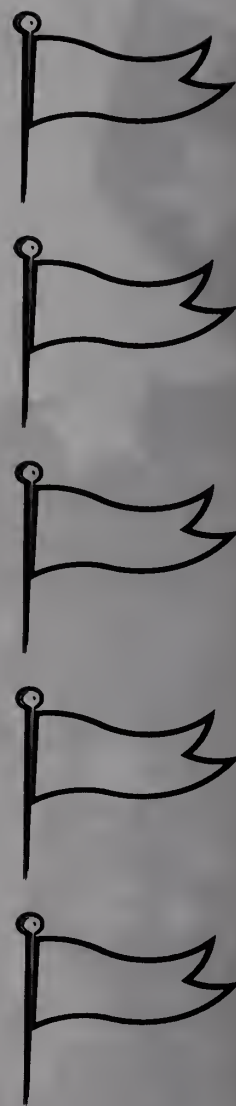

Linda Kizelewicz 12
"My favorite part of colorguard was always Band Day, because we met so many cool people, and UMASS's colorguard is awesome."

Stephanie Fabrizio 10
"Being on the squad has helped me become more outgoing because it gave me confidence I never had before."

This year the colorguard squad included returning members Tiara LaCosta and Linda Kizelewicz, co-captains Nicole Mastrogiacomo and Andrea Smith, and the newest member, Stephanie Fabrizio. These girls worked hard at perfecting their halftime performances. For the 2003 football season, the colorguard performed with the band to Michael Jackson's "Thriller" and J. Geils Band's "Freeze Frame."

On Saturday, September 27, the colorguard and marching band joined bands from all across New England, New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania along with UMASS's "Minuteman Marching Band" in an intense rehearsal which led to a massive halftime performance in front of a crowd of 17,000 fans. Band Day has always been a favorite of the HHS colorguard. Another favorite is the Quincy Christmas parade. The colorguard also performs at parades in the spring such as the St. Patrick's Day Parade in Boston.

Dance Team

The Dancing Queens do it again.....

The Dance Team was off to a great start this year, led by captains, Rachel Gates, Linda Kizelewicz, and Christel Gianci. Many new faces were introduced who were extremely devoted to dancing. Ali Gates, Felicia Anderson, Olivia Rudnicki, Lauren Austin, Jacci Bonnacolto, Hazel Tulud, Petrina Marius, Errah Fadrigalan, Cat Jones and Monica Grochowski were this year's members. These girls worked hard, practicing everyday after school before a performance and coming up with ideas for the dances. The team also began their fundraising by making crafts and selling them at the Christmas Craft fair. They performed in a variety of shows such as the Holbrook High Christmas Concert and the Cabaret.

Bottom: As they learn a new move to groove with, Monica Grochowski, Olivia Rudnicki and Errah Fadrigalan show off their dancing talent.

Rachel Gates, Senior

"I have had a great time as captain for the past three years, and am going to miss the girls a lot."

Linda Kizelewicz, Senior

"Being a founder and captain of the Dance Team for the past three years has meant a lot to me. I've made some great friendships and had the best times. I'm so proud of all the hard work our girls put in for us. Thanks girls! I'll miss you!"

Christel Gianci, Senior

"It was really fun being a part of the team. All of us worked hard this year and had a great time performing."
